

Comma Practice

Directions: Place commas where necessary, remembering what you just learned about openers, interrupters and closers.

1. Anxious, I waited for Rollie's head to appear above the water.
2. Long ago, I was taught this way, but they teach something different today.
3. Finally, she was old enough to go to school.
4. Right now, please get out your workbooks and do pages 6 and 7.
5. However, these were just drafts of their writing and not final products.
6. The sunlight showing through the drifting clouds, played hide and seek with us.
7. He left the house, swiftly in the night, never to return.
8. My husband's eyes, those eyes our daughters have, were a different shade of blue.
9. That, of course, is when our trip was scheduled.
10. "Your dirty boots," she muttered, "don't belong in the living room."
11. "I'm not doing well," he said.
12. You can go with me to Disney World, yes.
13. I'm amazed at what some students are doing with their writing, especially you.
14. In the past, I have always been told I was an exceptional writer, seldom making any grammar mistakes.
15. Our hurried lifestyle soon takes over, plunging us forever into chaos.